Former radiologist Michael Yuz launched SecondOpinions.com in May as part of USARAD, which reads radiological images for medical practices. His new venture is a telemedicine company that offers patients second opinions on diagnoses.

Users can upload images, share medical charts and ask questions of doctors licensed in their state. Charges range from $29 for an X-ray to $99 for an MRI to $200 for a written report. It doesn't take insurance yet, he added. It has nearly 500 physicians signed up; Yuz said.

Yuz said the company plans to hire 200 people in the next 18 months, mostly in customer support. He is looking to lease about 10,000 square feet in Broward or Miami-Dade counties for an operations and customer support center.
