

USARad.com Adds Options to Second-Opinion Service

By AuntMinnie.com staff writers

August 22, 2013 -- Teleradiology services provider USARad.com has debuted a number of membership plans for its SecondOpinions.com service.

Individual and family plans start at $9.99 per month, which allows patients to upload their radiology studies and receive a second radiology opinion. Employer plans start at $6.99 per month, per employee.

In addition, physicians and medical facilities receive a one-year free membership and obtain 50% off the cost of radiology second opinions and 20% off general medical consultations, according to the firm.

Patients also get access to a medical library, lifetime storage of radiology records, and unlimited radiology second opinions. Some plans also offer general and specialty medical consultations, USARad.com said.

About AuntMinnie.com

What is an "AuntMinnie?"

AuntMinnie.com provides the first comprehensive community Internet site for radiologists and related professionals in the medical imaging industry.

AuntMinnie provides a forum for radiologists, business managers, technologists, members of organized medicine, and industry to meet, transact, research, and collaborate on topics within the field of radiology with the ease and speed that only the Internet can provide.

AuntMinnie features the latest news and information about medical imaging. The staff of AuntMinnie includes executives, editors, and software engineers with years of experience in the radiology industry.